

EDITORIAL

DOI: <http://dx.doi.org/10.31344/ijhhs.v7i7000.598>

Bismillahirrahmanirrahim

We are immensely grateful to Allah SWT for granting us strength and ability to successfully conclude the Clinical Case Competition 2023 (CliCC) for the second time on 23rd September 2023. The event was mainly organised by the Health and Wellbeing Cluster of IKRAM United Kingdom and Eire. It was conducted virtually on the Zoom platform involving doctors and medical students in Malaysia and the United Kingdom.

CliCC 2023 was aimed to offer a platform for clinicians to showcase compelling cases and transformative discoveries from diverse fields of medicine. It was also an avenue for participants to harness their communication and leadership skills. It was rewarding to see the judges, participants and audience engage in intellectual discourse throughout the competition including poster presentations. This year, participants were judged for best oral and short poster presentation on the merit of the judges' expertise and on their general presentation skills. A special medical student prize was awarded hopefully to boost students' motivation in case sharing and research participation in the future.

We would like to congratulate and thank our supportive collaborators, MERCY Malaysia United Kingdom (MHUK), Islamic Medical Association of Malaysia (IMAM), Malaysian Association of Postgraduate and Professional (MAPP) and Medical Education for Primary Care (MEduCare), honourable judges and all participants for making CliCC 2023 a successful event.

May the abstracts presented here benefit the readers and encourage us to consistently progress and propel the boundaries of knowledge further.

Assalamualaikum.

Supplementary issue editorial:

Najhan Rosli
Fadzwani Basri
Siti Sarah Mohd Nor
Xin Yi Foong
Leen El Yaman
Alya Nur Asmalina Ahmad Nazri